Kochadaiyaan - The Legend -Tamil.(News.com.au) Brisbane's free Hy's! (Hyundais in Brisbane) badging scheme continues to pose a difficult conundrum for the public. In March 2014, the scheme was introduced - the first in Australia - allowing motorists to display the blue logo on the back of their car with the aim of raising awareness of the importance of road safety. Since its launch in May 2014, Brisbane City Council and the state government have no plans to withdraw the scheme, despite a strong backlash among city residents. Brisbane City Council has committed $24 million over the next four years to the scheme, with the state government tolling the rest of the $60 million cost. Mark Jones, Roads Minister, said the government was satisfied the scheme was best managed by Brisbane City Council. "The free car badging scheme has been a huge success for Brisbane and the Queensland Government with more than 9 million free stickers installed in Brisbane alone," Mr Jones said. "The community has embraced the free stickers and our road safety awareness campaign has been one of the biggest and most successful campaigns of its kind in the world, with more than $1.2 billion of goods being recovered by the Queensland Government." But some Brisbane residents have vowed to boycott the scheme following concerns the logo does not properly stick to the car. Related Related Mayor of Brisbane, Campbell
