A: Both the options will work. Using backslashes \t - Shows the tab character - Shows the newline character \r - Shows the carriage return character \b - Shows the backspace character Using double quotes "" - Shows the double quote character "" - Shows the single quote character Note - The backslashes, double quotes and single quotes will replace the newline characters. For example, if I wanted to replace all occurrences of " - I would do something like this: sed -i's"/"/"/g' fileName If I wanted to do this for tabs: sed -i's/\t"/"/g' fileName // Copyright (C) 2011 Davis E.
